Section 8: Selecting Important Items

TFS Hub uses a system where you can mark certain items as 'favourites', so you can find the important items easier. This system works best if you only mark items selectively, because if you mark too many as important, it may still be difficult to find what you are looking for.

Go to the item you wish to mark as important and hover over it. An outline of a star should appear on the left side of the title of the item. You should click on the star, and it will be highlighted yellow.

Any item that you star will now be recognised as a favourite. Along the sidebar on the left-hand side of the file list there is a category titled 'Favourites'. If you click on it you will only be able to see items you have marked as important.

Under this category, all the items marked as important will appear listed like in the 'All Files' section. You can interact with them in the same ways as you can any other item.
